School Philosophy, Educational Purpose, and Goals

■ School Philosophy

Nurturing truly internationally minded people through Kotokushin, or unbiased harmony

■ Educational Purpose

Intending to contribute to a harmonious society that respects cultural diversity, we foster students' understanding of Japanese culture, customs, and ways of life. Through this learning process, students develop their character and grow into true global citizens with a strong sense of public virtue, capable of contributing to peace and development in the international community.

■ Education Goals

- Achieve Japanese language proficiency equivalent to B2 level of the Japanese Language Education Reference Framework.
- Advance to the desired educational or career pathway (higher education or employment)
- Develop the ability to adapt to Japanese society.
- Cultivate a deep understanding of and respect for Japanese culture.

Characteristics of Our School

1. Full-Time Course Curriculum

In addition to the required Japanese language courses for full-time students, we incorporate elective required classes (JLPT preparation, EJU preparation, BJT preparation, and weakness reinforcement) into the standard curriculum.

As a result, students have increased study time, enabling them to overcome their own learning weaknesses and achieve their goals earlier.

2. Comprehensive Japanese language learning support system that provides multifaceted support for each student

We set up classes according to Japanese proficiency level, and each class is assigned a homeroom teacher who creates detailed lesson plans while considering students' attributes. In addition, for Japanese language subjects, we employ "team teaching," in which multiple teachers provide instruction so that students can interact with a variety of Japanese speakers. The homeroom teacher serves as a hub to ensure close coordination between the teachers who teach the same class, building a system to monitor the growth of each student from multiple perspectives.

3. Dedicated career guidance

We have established a comprehensive career guidance system led by homeroom teachers and career counseling staff. Through various guidance sessions and individual support, we provide meticulous career support for each student—from selecting target schools and preparing application essays to guiding them through the entire admissions process, including interview practice and post-acceptance enrollment procedures.

4. Affiliated Institution of the University

As an affiliated school of Tokyo International University, students are eligible to advance to Tokyo International University through a special recommendation system, which offers benefits such as exemption from entrance examination fees and tuition reductions as scholarship incentives.

Students also have opportunities to interact with Japanese students, including attending regular concerts by Tokyo International University's Wind Ensemble regular concerts and participating in international student speech contests held during the university's campus festival.

5. Providing many opportunities to learn Japanese culture

Clubs for flower arrangement, tea ceremony, calligraphy, and kimono dressing are available, offering students opportunities to learn traditional Japanese culture through club activities and understand the public virtues valued by the school. In addition to Japanese language education in the classroom, all students can participate in off-campus learning activities, including Kabuki and Noh theater performances and excursions such as walks in Koedo Kawagoe. Furthermore, as an affiliated institution of Tokyo International University, students are eligible to use the National Museum Campus Members Program, providing additional opportunities to appreciate art and culture.

School Location

The school is located in a quiet residential area, just a 4-minute walk from JR Takadanobaba Station in central Tokyo. With excellent transportation access—only 5 minutes to Shinjuku and 3 minutes to Ikebukuro by train—students can travel comfortably to all areas of Tokyo.

Takadanobaba is a town with a long history, and is also known for its vibrant, international atmosphere. With many international students and young people gathering in the area, it offers an ideal environment for learning and cultural exchange.

All dormitories are located in quiet residential areas in the Tokyo metropolitan area, providing an excellent living environment. In most dormitories, a resident manager couple is on-site to support students’ daily lives, including security, hygiene management, and nutritionally balanced meals.

For more details about the student dormitories, please visit our website.
